Take care

How to Clean Your Vanity Unit and Wood Furniture

Ensure that you only use non-abrasive cleaners on your vanity unit and fitted furniture in order to avoid scratching and damaging it. Scratches can attract water and encourage mould to grow. Use warm soapy water and a tight weave cloth on the surface and then immediately dry the area to avoid leaving streaks. If your wood unit top is badly stained you may have to lightly sand and revarnish the stained area, or hire a professional.

How to Polish Your Chrome Fittings

Tarnished chrome-finished taps and fittings should initially be cleaned with soap and water on a soft rag, followed by vinegar and baking soda if needed. Alternatively, baby oil can be used to shine up your chrome.

Rusty chrome fittings can be tackled with a crumpled piece of aluminium foil dipped in vinegar and a small amount of pressure, then rinse with water.

To avoid water spots, make sure you immediately dry your chrome fittings after polishing them.
